PLAYER'S MOST VALUABLE PLAYER (MVP)

Also known as the Player's Player this award is an award decided by the players alone. For the players by the players, it is not influenced by Committee, Coaches or Officials nor do they have input.

At the end of each season each player nominates one player in their team who demonstrates on field consistency, commitment and effort. It is not intended as recognition of the team's best or most skillful player (although that can be taken into consideration) but the best team player.

Players cannot nominate themselves and may make only one nomination. The nominations are considered confidential.

The player with the most nominations will be declared the Players MVP.

The award is based on one or all of the following criteria:

Team Player - Puts the team first. Does what is best for the team.

Initiative - Operates within the team structure however can make a decision without the coach's direction.

Inspiration - Inspires the team to do better. Raises the morale or the energy of the team.

Attitude - Encourages others, shows respect to all team members and the opposition, accepts feedback, maintains a positive approach.

Character - Good role model, coachable, respected by teammates. Always attends training and is punctual on game day.

Game Sense - Does the right thing at the right time. Brings other players into the game.
